WE ASKED: What is the most beneficial change your chamber has made within the past year?

TOP CHANGES
1. Staffing
2. Organization Strategy
3. Programs
4. Events
5. Marketing

COMMENTS FROM SURVEY RESPONDENTS
- Creating a new culture and adjusting the staffing to go along with that.
- Addition of a Dedicated Workforce/Talent Resources Director.
- Outsourcing both our bookkeeping and social media management.
- Hired someone to handle member retention.
- Hired a full-time admin assistant with IT background.
- Hired a new President/CEO with progressive ideas.
- Created a Strategic Plan identifying four initiatives.
- Stronger focus on revenue by operating more like a business.
- Thinking in terms of the member journey and developing a member-centric approach to everything we do.
- Expanded into more economic development issues.
- Asking for feedback from our members and implementing their advice.
- Shifted Executive Director’s focus away from low revenue generating/high effort events to more productive things.
- Working intentionally towards projects that provide real results to issues facing our community.
- Replacing some old events like golf with educational opportunities.
- Partnering with other neighboring chambers for networking events.
- Decreasing number of events so staff can work on more meaningful projects and programs.
- Expanding our events to expose more potential members to what the Chamber has to offer.
- Consolidating events to increase attendance and reduce operation costs.
- Stopped hosting community events (i.e. car show, 4th of July).
- Stopped using volunteer resources to maintain our website and moved our domain name, web hosting, and email marketing all under a single (paid) provider.
- Shifted the focus of our Chamber Guide to more of a community guide instead of solely advertising as well as created it in house instead of outsourcing.
- Rebranded our organization.
- Investing in personalization technology.

TOP PREDICTIONS

1. Increased Pressure to Recruit Young Professionals
2. Strategy
3. Growth of Social Media
4. Digital Engagement
5. Increased and Improved Benefits

COMMENTS FROM SURVEY RESPONDENTS

- Identifying, recruiting, and retaining both solo-preneurs & startups as members.
- Recruiting younger members to serve on board and committees.
- Adapting to and meeting the needs of younger generations.
- Morphing into a relevant organization that appeals to and connects with the younger generation of entrepreneurs.
- Chambers need to be a catalyst for young professionals and speak to their needs to help them grow in their careers.

- Social media redefining networking events.
- Increased social media presence and engaging members in various social media/web channels.
- Creating more proprietary social media platforms.
- Evolving with social media as it impacts the scope of what we do.

- More educational programming and fewer “fluff” events.
- Member health plans.
- Improve quality of membership portfolio so that their membership dues offset cost of serving them.
- Including more digital marketing in promoting members and as part of membership packages.
- To set themselves apart from other networking organizations, Chambers will need to advocate for business-friendly legislation, education, and workforce issues.

- Focusing on key priorities (not all things to all people) while maintaining profitability.
- Positioning chambers as community problem solvers and not social clubs/ribbon cutting groups.
- Changing the way chambers do business. Fewer chambers operating as non-profits.
- Continued tension/competition with niche business organizations vs. our broad chamber service umbrella.
- Working on an initiative to recruit private vacation rental owners as members. (e.g., Airbnb, VRBO)

- Digitally-gear member participation: mobile member applications, digitizing tourism, micro-networking.
- Chambers based in a more digital space opposed to events/physical interaction.
- Virtual memberships for those members who cannot be present for every event, but want to connect, network, and market their businesses to other chamber members.
- Helping members connect and collaborate more with other businesses using technology.
- Live stream of more educational sessions, ribbon cuttings, etc.
